ORNAMENTAL PEPPER

(Capsicum annuum)

With its ornamental peppers, this vibrant South American native makes a striking and unique room accent. Just follow these simple instructions for a healthier, longer fruit-bearing plant. And, enjoy your gift with the warm wishes of the thoughtful person whose name appears on the outer address label.

PLACEMENT

Keep your pepper plant indoors, where it will receive plenty of bright light. The peppers will remain fresher longer if the temperature stays between 55° to 65°F. Make sure the plant is not exposed to freezing temperatures. Always set the container on a protected surface to prevent water damage to furniture.

WATER AND FERTILIZER

Water regularly to keep the soil evenly moist, but not soggy. Do not leave the pot standing in water. If indoor air is dry, add humidity by misting the leaves frequently or placing the pot on a tray with moist pebbles. Fertilize every two weeks with a commercial houseplant food, according to the product label instructions.

CAUTION

These ornamental peppers may be toxic if eaten. Keep out of reach of pets and children.
